

Dive Into Your Future This Summer!

Take a couple of hours this summer to start planning your high school future and beyond with a LifeMap Workshop. This program lays out a common sense approach, realistic timetable and a manageable process that will make planning for college a breeze. In this two-hour workshop, parents and students will learn to:

- Plan and leverage academic learning and real-life experiences in high school
- Explore college options and learn about the college application process
- Develop a brand, resume, essays and recommendations
- Research and evaluate ways to pay for college
