Also, planning with their counselor can help set up a plan to make sure they are getting all their credits in with Band and Career Center.

Can a student choose Astronomy as their third or fourth science credit? Can a student choose Environmental Science as a third or fourth science credit?	Students are required to earn 1 full credit of either Integrated Physics & Chemistry, Chemistry, or Physics to graduate. If a student must take Chemistry or Physics may depend upon the endorsement that they are completing for graduation. However, in this example, if a student were to be going through the Electrical program, they would not need to take Chemistry or Physics to participate. That student could benefit from Physics as it is related to the work they will do in the program. There are many choices that students can pick from for their 3rd and 4th science credit.
General Registration Que	Why is it so important for a 14 yr old to have a plan for when they are 18 (referring to ccmr)? this time, in my opinion, is when they should be discovering who they are rather than defining who they are.	We want students to explore their options while they are in high school to find courses that they like or possibly don't like so they can know what is best for them once they graduate. The resources we offer can help set them up for whatever plan they choose before they graduate. We don't expect them to know exactly what they want to do right now. We want them to find the right path for them and use our resources to put them in the best place possible before graduation.

General Registration Que	If your child wants to do multiple sports what does that look like?	Have your child sign up for the sport they want to start with, then they can switch with coach permission or after tryouts. For example a student can sign up for football all year, then after season is over, speak to the baseball coach and get permission to switch to baseball for the spring. This is communicated to counselors and we get it switched.
