We thought our daughter would learn a few Spanish words since she was only attending once a week. Until, we decided to go out to dinner one night and while we were waiting for our table, I could hear my daughter speaking to a little girl who only spoke Spanish. We almost fell off the bench we were sitting on! She could understand her and she would say a few words that she knew to let her know what she wanted to tell her. We were so impressed! Besides that, our daughter loves it. Thursday can't get here soon enough. I'm excited to watch her continue and see how far she gets. How awesome it is to be bilingual.
